FROM THE ADMIN DESK

This is our third issue and so far we have had great feedback with our previous newsletters. I hope you are enjoying what we have to offer and if there is anything in particular you would like to see please let us know. Suggestions are always welcome and appreciated.

There is so much on our residents, their families and our staff to be patience and understanding we have received during our renovations, I know it has been stressful and disruptive at times.

Our gardens are looking amazing and I am looking forward to the final stages of the renovations by the end of the month.Please visit our Facebook page, for more up to date happenings.

We hope you enjoy reading.

Maryann Inban – Financial Controller

FROM OUR DEPUTY DIRECTOR OF NURSING

There are some wonderful changes happening at The Willows.

The introduction of the new uniforms for our staff has been a positive change. Some examples of challenges we are tackling are providing an environment that is as homely as possible, whilst also providing a safe environment for our residents and getting to know our residents better so we can care and intervene if physical needs arise.

Watch this space for our new initiatives - and as always, feedback as we go forward is welcomed.

Annika Tarbox - Deputy Director of Nursing

FROM OUR DIVERSIONAL THERAPIST

Hello everyone, from the Diversional Therapy cube.

On Friday 14th February, The Willows residents enjoyed celebrating Valentine's Day, it was an event filled with John singing beautiful romantic songs as residents danced with their loved ones. We also shared with some secret and then some not so secret residents choice of beverage and to top it off all of our ladies received a gift bag filled with treats.

In March, we will be celebrating St Patrick's Day on the 17th with all things green and on the 25th we will be inviting some of our Greek families to come and celebrate Greek Independence Day.

Cynthia Rooster – Diversional Therapist

HEALTH AND WELLNESS

CORONAVIRUS

Coronavirus

Coronaviruses (CoV) are a large family of viruses that cause illness ranging from the common cold to more severe diseases such as middle east respiratory syndrome (MERS-CoV) and severe acute respiratory syndrome (SARS-CoV).

Common signs of infection include respiratory symptoms, fever, cough, shortness of breath and breathing difficulties. In more severe cases, infection can cause pneumonia, severe acute respiratory syndrome, kidney failure and even death.

To avoid the spread of the disease you should:

Wash your hands frequently, for at least 20 seconds or use an alcohol-based hand rub if your hands are not visibly dirty. Washing your hands with soap and water or using alcohol-based hand rub kills viruses that may be on your hands.

Practise respiratory hygiene. If you have a cough and sneezing, cover mouth and nose with flexed elbow or tissue – discard tissue immediately into a closed bin and clean your hands with alcohol-based hand rub or soap and water. Droplets spread virus. By following respiratory hygiene and sneezing protocol, you are protecting people around you. If you sneeze or cough into your hands, you may contaminate objects or people that you touch.

Maintain at least 1 metre (3 feet) distance between yourself and anyone who coughs or sneezes and who has a fever. When someone coughs or sneezes they spray small droplets from their nose or mouth which may contain virus. If you are too close, you can breathe in the virus. Avoid touching eyes, nose and mouth. Hands touch many surfaces and can be contaminated with the virus. If you touch your eyes, nose or mouth with your contaminated hands, you can transfer the virus from the surface to yourself.

Avoid unprotected contact with farm animals and markets. If you work with animals, you should follow specific hygiene and biosecurity advice to reduce transmission of diseases between animals and humans. If you visit a live animal market, wear clothing that you can wash and avoid touching animals. Do not eat, drink or smoke in animal markets as you may touch your mouth with contaminated hands. Wash your hands with soap and water or alcohol-based hand rub before and after visiting animal markets.

Avoid unprotected contact with wild animals. Do not touch or feed wild animals (including birds) and avoid touching surfaces in environments frequented by animals.

Stay at home if you are sick. If you have symptoms of COVID-19 (fever, cough, shortness of breath), even if mild, stay at home and self-isolate. Do not go to work, school or public areas. Avoid using public transport or taxis.

Novel coronavirus (COVID-19)

Information for residents of residential aged care services, their family members and visitors

There is an outbreak of novel coronavirus (COVID-19) in mainland China.

Australia has put in place travel restrictions for foreign nationals who travel to China or think they have been in close contact of a confirmed case of coronavirus, special attention is required for those who work in healthcare or in aged care facilities, which means not attending public places, in particular work, school, university or childcare facilities.

The information sheet should be read in conjunction with the fact sheet 'Novel coronavirus (COVID-19)' for the general public.

Visitor guidance / isolation

- Visitors should not visit the facility if they have been in contact with the following circumstances:
- If you have left, or transited through, mainland China in the last 14 days you must isolate yourself for 14 days from the date you left China, even if you feel well.
- If you have been in close contact with a confirmed case of coronavirus you must isolate yourself for 14 days from the date of last contact with the confirmed case.

Residents of aged care facilities

Residents of aged care facilities should be encouraged to limit contact with visitors and other activities. Residents will not be able to have these visitors. These visitors will need to be isolated in their own homes. Residents should be encouraged to limit their movement outside their room. Where this is not possible residents should be advised to contact staff for assistance. Residents should be encouraged to practice good hygiene, especially washing and having space and resources prepared in the unlikely event a resident needs to be isolated.

Staff and visitors to residential aged care facilities who have been in China in the last 14 days and have returned to Australia

What does it mean to be isolated?

Isolation means staying in your home and not being placed in a single room away from other residents and staff to be allowed to use shared facilities. Isolation means you should not go to work, school or public support and care while you are isolated. If you need to leave your room, such as to seek medical care, you should wear a surgical mask to cover your nose and mouth to minimise the spread of droplets. You will be closely isolated to ensure you:

- If you are a family member or visitor who needs to be isolated, refer to advice in the 'Isolation guidance' section of this information sheet.

How can we help prevent the spread of coronavirus?

Practising good hand and wrist hygiene is the best defence against most viruses.

Hand hygiene

Clean your hands frequently with soap and water, before and after eating, and after going to the toilet. Cover your cough and sneeze, dispose of tissues, and use alcohol-based hand sanitiser.

Wear a surgical mask if you are unwell and have to be in public

Wearing a surgical mask will help prevent the spread of droplets.

More information

While coronavirus is of concern, it is important to remember that most people displaying symptoms such as flu and cold symptoms do not have coronavirus. Most people will have contracted the flu or cold.

For the latest advice, information and resources, go to www.health.gov.au

The Australian Government Department of Health has set up a hotline to operate 24 hours a day, 7 days a week to provide the public with information and answer any concerns about COVID-19. Our name and logo is going to change.

Can a much more detailed background to this name and their benefits.

A SHINING LIGHT TO OUR DEDICATED STAFF

Staff Member - Aurelia Pagyan

I have been a Nurse for 5 years and I am originally from the Philippines. I am the 4th out of 7 children in my family. I have been working at The Willows for 2k years and it feels like a second home to me. I love my job, it's very satisfying. I like to help people and I have a great connection with the families, relatives and friends.

I really appreciate and am very thankful to Sister Helen and Mr Sam Inban for the opportunity they gave me during the initial phase of my work in The Willows.

THIS MONTH'S BLOOM - DAFFODILS
